

MARKET REPORT – WEEK 28

BASED ON SALES AND PURCHASES OF VESSELS WEEK ENDED FRIDAY 12TH JULY 2024.

Because a single rifle shot extremely fortunately missed its intended target by millimeters on Saturday night in Pennsylvania the tone of this report can remain 'carry on, steady as you go' but it could have been ever so different. Luckily, because of a fortuitous and timely turn of his head, ex-President Trump is still with us, and one of either Trump or Biden will be in the White House for another 5 years from November, unless Biden steps down and a replacement Democrat nominee steps in.

The only noteworthy movement amongst Baltic dry indexes last week was the BPI closing up by +8.5%, while the rest all closed +/- very small percentages of their closures the week before: BCI closed down -1.3%, BSI +2.2% and the BHSI -0.1% w-o-w.

The S+P markets continued to perform much the same too, with steady numbers of bulkers changing hands at close to last done levels, while second hand tanker sales remain less in volume due only to the lack of desirable vessels available for sale. There is also continuous buying enquiry for larger gas vessels, especially VLGC's and MGCs but they remain very difficult to tempt away from their existing owners unless extremely premium levels are offered.

The subcontinent recycling markets remain very quiet due to a combination of decreasing world steel demand and therefore prices, the reluctance of owners willing to end their vessels lives while freight levels remain attractive and, last but not least, it is now monsoon season which will likely persist until early September.
